

SAM RUFUS NALLARAJ

- Leads IT at Deloitte University in Dallas, Texas.
- Former Chief of Staff to the CTO of the Deloitte US & Global Firms.
- Former Senior Vice President at Deloitte Consulting-India.
- Recipient of the Deloitte India All Star Award in Deloitte India.
- Former CEO, GluePlus Innotech India Pvt. Ltd.
- Completed his Haggai Leader Experience in 2007. God gave him a vision to share the Gospel through multimedia.
- Created 10 big-budget Christian dramas and plays viewed by more than 45,000 people, ultimately bringing more than 750 people to Christ.
- Co-founded Champs for Christ (Hyderabad, India), which hosts competitions in filmmaking, preaching, Bible verse memorization, and more; geared toward raising the next generation to share the Gospel through secular media. 3,000 children from more than 100 churches have participated thus far.
- Selected among 30,000 applicants to represent India in the TV series “The Apprentice, Asia,” where he finished as the runner-up.
- Presents professionally on Ethics, Compliance, and Coach Approach; teaches leadership development as a member of John Maxwell EQUIP faculty; facilitates A/V and Evangelism training for Haggai International.
- Holds an MBA and a bachelor’s degree in engineering; certification in project management, portfolio management, management consulting, ITSM, and ITIL.
- Sam and his wife, Genevieve, live with their daughter, Sasha, and son, Jayden, in Argyle, Texas.

